Lack Contests In 12 Races

Town Clerk Ann Mahon announced this week that on Monday at 5 p.m.—one week prior to the final date and hour for filing all nomination papers on February 1 at the same hour there were 178 announced candidates for the 141 town meeting member vacancies to be filled by ballot at the coming Annual Town Election on March 7, 1960.

Included among the candidates were 102 candidates for re-election.

However, it was pointed out that while the numerical figures are rosy, there exists many uncontested races. In about a dozen situations, there is no contest.

Following is the breakdown, by precincts, of the vacancies and announced candidates: (the asterisks denote no contest)

Trainee or Experienced
Excellent positions open in bank West of Boston. Good opportunity and pleasant working conditions. State experience and salary desired. Write Box G, Arlington Advocate, 15 Prescott St., Arlington.

A 5 per cent pay boost to Town employees which will total $210,000 for nine months—April 1 to Dec. 31, 1960—will be recommended by the Personnel Board to the annual Town Meeting.

The increase per employee is $208 per year for those salaried and $4 per week to the hourly paid. However, if the 5% is greater—that is it.

Thus, an official receiving now $6,000 in salary will be upped by $300. There are many in this or higher brackets.

The Board's statement:

1. Arlington's pay scale dropped from its comparative position with that of comparable cities and towns in 1959 by almost 3%. Arlington voted its employees an increase of $104.00 last year or about 2.2% on the average; the nine other cities and towns historically used for comparison purposes voted an average of 5%—which in Arlington would have amounted to about $220.00. Thus about 3% of the 5% recommended is to bring Arlington back into a relative position.
2. The annual average cost (Continued on Page 2)

Church Pledges $4,000 To Boys' Club Fund

The drive for funds for the new Boy's Club building received a big, lift this week when the members of the Pleasant Street Congregational Church voted at the annual meeting last Friday to pledge the sum of $4,000 to the project.

The gift was announced today by the Rev. John A. Heidt, pastor of the Church.

While many of the members present plan to make personal pledges, the group felt that they should do something tangible as a church body to show their vital interest in the welfare of the youth of the community.

Rev. Heidt explained that there is being set up within the church budget a local social action fund which will benefit various town-wide projects, with the Boys' Club building fund the first recipient of such financial aid.

He spoke on the origin of the bill to establish Minuteman National Park in Lexington, Lincoln and Concord, and of the need for such a shrine in this area, "the cradle of American liberty." "PHYSICIANS TRUST
ENTIRELY TO THE DRUGGISTS"

(*Author's Name Below)

About fifty years after the birth of Christ, Pliny, the elder, warned of the danger of obtaining medicines from unreliable sources or people whose only interest in their sale was the profit to be made. He explained that physicians trust druggists who have a professional reputation to cherish and preserve.

There have always been some thoughtless or money-hungry people attempting to sell medicines, even though they have no knowledge of the problems involved. The simplest medicine requires proper cautions against possible dangerous misuse. We pharmacists have the knowledge to protect you.

buildings. It is expected that the assessed valuation — not the building costs — will be at least $700,000, if not a million.

This would bring in $50-$60,000 in revenue annually. However, there are serious drainage problems in the area which is only about 5 feet above sea level.

Star Market plans to raise the level by 3 feet with firm fill. Because of this expense and because large amounts of surface water flows in from the Dorothy rd. area, Star is asking the Town to install the drainage.

The cost of this drainage would be covered in only a few years, it is pointed out. It is felt that Town officials lean toward acceptance of the plan. The sticky part, it is understood, is the mechanics of the drainage.

Star wants the drain line to go direct to Alewife brook, crossing Thorndike playground. This would cost, with feeder lines, about $100,000.

The Town contends that a private drain (in reality) crossing public property is unthinkable. It feels all that is needed is to join the system to four State culverts which pass under Rt. 2 at an estimated cost of $35,000.

Pledge—

ple express concern as individual for local community problems, but they also feel that the Church should express that same concern in a concrete form. This year the Boys' Club project is of prime importance.

"Another year the need may be in another field. Whatever the major community need, the Pleasant Street church stands ready to pledge its financial support through its local Social Action fund."

"Meadows"—

lectmen "blithely" voted to propose the Great Meadows. The Lexington newspaper, one of the best in this section, vehemently declared:

Several years ago the reconstructed Route 3 which is a main throughfare from Boston north through Chelmsford, Lowell and Tyngsboro into the recreation areas of New Hampshire was completed from North Chelmsford to Route 128. There it stopped and traffic to Boston was directed back through the old inadequate route in Burlington, Woburn and Arlington. The reconstructed portion of this route which is a fine double barreled road with adequate space between the two traffic lanes was part of the original plan contained in the complete "Coolidge Report of 1948" which laid out and excellent traffic system for Eastern Massachusetts.

When the new Route 3 terminated at Route 128, it was understood through State officials that it would be continued in towards Boston as soon as possible. The layout for this section as shown in the 1948 report went easterly of Lowell st. up over the hill there and then followed the Arlington - Winchester line closely until it reached the lower end of the Mystic Lakes and thence followed the river down to the planned Inner Belt which was to circle Boston. This was a well conceived plan which would bring the various major trunks toward Boston into the Inner Belt with their exits far enough apart so that there would be no heavy congestion of traffic.

Several years ago the Town of Arlington protested this layout, as it would go through a recently developed section. At that time Arlington suggested that the new Route 3 swing westerly from its present junction of Route 128, cross the Great Meadow in Lexington, and dump in to Route 2 at the Arlington - Lexington line. This plan was given some study at the time by competent authorities, who pointed out that the plans for a reconstruction of a new Route 2 indicated a needed capacity of a maximum of 75 thousand cars a day, and if this new Route 3 was dumped into it, with perhaps a maximum of 25 thousand cars a day, the new Route 2 would become immediately inadequate.

"Furthermore Lexington which is already cut by two major highways, Routes 2 and 128, would be severely damaged by this third slicing from this new non-access Route 3. In addition this proposed location would be costly as it would run through several new, good, and expensive real estate developments. It was thought that Arlington's solution of Route 3 had been dropped as poor and inadequate planning.

"Last week, news came out of Arlington that their officials, including the planning board, the development commission and the Board of Selectmen had officially approved the layout of Route 3 through the Great Meadow in East Lexington, and that the Town of Arlington would give to the State the land in the Great Meadow which is owned by Arlington and bought when that area was used for their water supply.

"This Arlington plan immediately places a major portion of Lexington in great jeopardy. It will damage much of the southeastern section of the town, without giving it any traffic relief. "It will overload this town's only major traffic artery into Boston. It will throw out much of the town's planning for a good local road system. And above all it seems to badly disrupt a well designed traffic solution into the Greater Boston area which all of the suburbs need. "The Lexington Board of Selectmen, and the Lexington Planning Board have taken immediate steps to cope with the emergency. "However, they need the strong and vociferous support of every citizen of this town."

TO RUN

Franklin W. Hurd will run for Selectman in the March election. Hurd was Park Commissioner from 1950 to 1953 and was on the Board of Selectmen for six years, 1953-1959. During that time he served both as chairman and vice chairman.

Your Last Chance

This is your last chance to perform the very finest service to your community (and, incidentally, to your own pocketbook) — serving as Town Meeting member. Last chance because Monday at 5 p.m. is it!

It only takes a small effort to run and win:

- 1) get 15 to 20 of your precinct neighbors to sign a nomination paper (make sure signs are accurate);
- 2) obtain paper at Town Clerk's office and file by Monday, Feb. 1, before 5 p.m.
- 3) check the Precinct roster, maybe you are automatically in (with five running for six spots, for example);
- 4) if competition, go see Precinct chairman and find out, how stiff it is;
- 5) act accordingly;
- 6) at the very most, if your "name" does not have to be "sold" — twenty planned phone calls and 100 strategically addressed postcards will bring you 4th or 5th place, just behind the bigshots. And when you walk into the Town Hall on the 3rd Monday of March you will be eyed with respect!

Why?

Because in the election, you fooled the insiders.

Because you and your colleagues have sole local power to spend your and our money — to the tune of almost $8 million.

A powerful and vital job! Yet, the easiest one to obtain for the citizen who cares. But, right now, this is the last chance to win it in 1960.

Tell The Tale

Certainly, the Advocate has strived over the decades to put Arlington (nee Menotomy) on the History of the Revolution map. In fact, those decades add up to nearly a century of articles, editorials and reports.

Now, it has been announced from Washington that an area within Lexington, Lincoln and Concord has been designated as a National historical shrine. This historic park, in two parts, will cover about 700 acres.

According to historians, more men were killed in Menotomy on April 19 than in Lexington, Lincoln or Concord. Paul Revere rode through here — and never got to Concord!

Menotomy had several evening meeting spots of the Minute Men — pubs or taverns.

Surely, we should proclaim that this shrine of history should be in Arlington. Are we going to? The answer is "no"!

There are two very, very simple and practical reasons. First, what 100, 200, 300, 700 acres in this Town should be devoted to a (tax free) National park?

Second, whether we like it or not, battles are won (or were) at or on a spot. The roadways of running charge or a faltering retreat have always been strewn with bodies.

We are confident that the loss of Napoleon's men along the ways to and from Moscow were ten times the number lost on the ramparts of that citadel!

Even as late a date as World War II and the Korean Conflict, battles were won or lost at definite spot(s). Possibly whole globes — Earth, Moon and Mars — may be involved in the next!

So, on Lexington Green a stand was made. Although small in dead and wounded, this became the "shot heard around the world", even though our side lost.

At Concord, another stand was made. The Redcoats turned and fled. Our side won, gloriously — even though less died than in Menotomy (now Arlington).

To us, this National shrine and park becomes the greatest opportunity, even, of telling the "Story of Menotomy" to thousands of vacationists who will visit the area.

Humbly, we could never have told the Menotomy tale alone. Now, we have the chance!

Boys Club Fund Leaders —

You and your professional advisors are doing a splendid job.

Of the appeal is a "natural," but we have never seen better acceptance of a town-wide project involving money with a capital "M".

That Man About Town

By MAT

Unless things change fast in the lineup for Town Meeting member, the year 1960 will go down in history as the "Year of the Write-in."

In no less than 12 races there is "no contest", with just enough or not enough candidates running to fill the vacant spots.

This situation is bunched in Precincts 1, 2, 3, 4.

When we write this week about the candidates for the so-called major offices, the reader should remember this: only three had actually filed nomination papers as of Monday eve. They are Greeley for Selectman, Francis Coughlin for Treasurer-Collector and Joseph Vahey for Housing. Actually then, there are (as of Monday) only three real candidates; the rest are just suspects.

Latest to announce his honest intentions is Franklin "Pud" Hurd, former Selectman, for Selectman, again. To the entirely uninformed, Hurd was second but among the six or seven who got snowed by Ann Mahon for Town Clerk last year.

As it turned out that race was a bit unfair. Public thought and sentiment became a tidal wave for "The Girl."

Hurd got hurt and a hurt Hurd is a downright menace in any contest. Most observers do not feel Frank can quite make it vs. Greeley and Rawson. As of this date, we agree — but watch and listen closely, folks.

As to the donnybrook for Assessor, we are not going to write one word this week. As we stated above, those papers are not filed — yet. And we'd be wasting our time and yours by bothering. This "race" could be a patsy-patsy or a bitter brawl. It all depends upon who can sway whom (or is it, whom can sway who) to get out of the race.

For School Committee we have the pathetic situation of candidates with positive qualifications facing three incumbents who have already convinced voters that they are qualified.

Seldom, if ever, in the annals of our Town has it happened that any one of three incumbents has been knocked off.

Candidates with positive qualifications by the "book" are Mary Carter with a degree of Doctor of Education and Walter Russell, teacher here for 14 years and now an assistant principal in Tewksbury. Both, believe we, are very, very dedicated to the task ahead.

Besides Hurd, latest to declare intentions are John D. Craig, 36 Pondview for Assessor and Cesare Fiorenza, 82 Marathon st., for School Committee.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

(An Advocate feature in which readers are invited to express their views and opinions. This feature is printed every week to give an indication of the thinking of you, the public.)

To the editor,

A recent story in the Advocate emphasizes the excellent job being done by the Arlington Public Library.

We are referring, of course, to the coverage you gave the current display, in the art gallery of the Main Library, of Lincolniana from Mr. Claude Simmonds' collection and the Brady photographs from the Ansco collection.

This exhibition highlights an era of American history in which the Civil War Round Table of Greater Boston is deeply interested. The observance of the Civil War Centennial will begin shortly (1961-1965) and we are happy to see that the citizens of Arlington have such a treasure of background material so close at hand.

The Arlington Public Library has many of the standard reference works, such as "Battles and Leaders," "Miller's Photographic History of The Civil War," etc. In addition the staff is selecting the best of the recent books about this critical period in American life.

The Town of Arlington, as did every city and town in the commonwealth, contributed a great deal to the preservation of the Union.

Massachusetts never had to draft a man to complete its quotas in the Civil War.

These facts, and many others, remain a secret to more than a few of us, particularly to the students in our schools. This need not remain always so, thanks to the Arlington Library, its growing facilities and its excellent staff, all of which we highly recommend. We hope everyone in Arlington take advantage of them.

Respectfully yours,
Thomas F. Turnan, Secretary
Civil War Round Table Of Greater Boston.

To the editor,

The Moderator of Trinity Baptist, at its annual meeting held on January 20, instructed me to write to you and thank you for the space that we received in your fine paper during the last year, and for the cooperation that we always experience in dealing with the Arlington Advocate.

Sincerely hoping that our relations will always be cordial, and wishing you continued success in the fine service you are providing the citizens of the Town of Arlington.

Sincerely,
Mrs. R. H. Newcomb, Clerk.

To the editor:

As a resident of Arlington I am writing you in regard to the improvement which was completed in the past year at the Mystic Valley Parkway and Mystic Street Intersection.

To anyone who has had to drive on this road before the recent construction, I need not express the inconvenience and time consuming effort which was required to reach the intersection and complete the right hand turn on to Mystic Street.

Living in the Upper Mystic street area, I must say that the system now in effect, namely a straight and right hand lane, is indeed a major improvement in our road construction.

It recently came to my attention that the person responsible for the proposal and completion of the widening of this road was Rep. John Buckley.

Mr. Buckley in my estimation deserves much credit in observing the needs of those who use this road, and for seeing that this need was remedied in such a fine manner.

May I, through your newspaper, give Rep. Buckley my sincerest thanks for a job well done.

Sincerely yours,
Richard F. Eustace

75 Years Ago This Week

A horse attached to a delivery wagon ran away Monday noon. While stopping at T. H. Russell's grocery, the horse worked himself around to Water street, and finding he was free, cut and ran for all he was worth, knocking down a young lady, who fortunately escaped without serious injury. The horse was not captured until he reached the Fitchburg depot, in Boston.

Sessions at Cotting High School have been interrupted again this week because of the inability to make the building comfortable with the new heating apparatus. There seems to have been a very large outlay to very little purpose.

50 Years Ago This Week

Arlington seems to be coming into quite an inheritance of public and semi-charitable institutions, but it is not yet clear as to how they are to be sustained. We have the hospital well underway (the bequest of the late Deacon Symmes), one of our Lend-a-hand clubs is discussing a "day nursery" scheme, and now an "old Couples Home" seems to be promised us. This latter project appeals to us more than the others, for it seems more practicable.

25 Years Ago This Week

Because, in their opinion, an emergency exists, the Board of Selectmen have called a special Town Meeting for Feb. 4. The two articles of the warrant, which was closed last Monday night, have to do with appropriations necessary to carry on E.R.A. work and the work in charge of the town's unemployment committee.

Friend of the Drama, we salute you. The author picked the worst weather in thirty years for the opening night of his play, "Swift Sword", but in spite of that fact there were nearly a hundred sturdy souls in the audience. FRIENDS, indeed.

The speaker of the evening will be Augustus Means, member of the Governors Council, who is seeking the Republican nomination for Lieutenant Governor.

He will speak on "The G.O.P. Challenge in 1960." Dessert will be served from 7:30 to 8 p.m.

BUSINESS WOMEN

On Feb. 3rd at 8 p.m. the Business and Professional Women's Group of Trinity Baptist church will hold an open meeting.

They will present as speaker, Dr. John W. Brush, professor of Church History at Andover Newton Theological school, who will talk on the subject "Christian Resources in the Nuclear Space Age."

Dr. Brush is a well-known speaker, and is considered an authority in the field of Christian Social Progress.

The meeting is being arranged by the program chairman, Miss Florence MacGregor, and will be presided over by the president, Miss Marion Philpott, with devotions under the direction of Miss Elinor Pangborn.

Refreshments will be served by the social chairman, Mrs. Evelyn Rourke and committee.

ARLINGTON CIRCLE

The Arlington Circle of the Florence Crittenton League met last Wednesday at the home of its president, Mrs. William W. Lewis. Mrs. Murray Gardner, hospitality chairman, served dessert and Mrs. Ralph W. Hupfer poured during the coffee hour.

Mrs. Lewis presided at the business meeting and reported on the success of the local Circle's Bazaar table. Mrs. Harold L. Morian was chairman and she was assisted by Mrs. Gordon A. Saunders. Members were told of plans being made by the board to have Carl DeSuzo give his lecture and show his slides on Russia on May 3 in the Town Hall.

Mrs. A. Bruce Downs spoke on "Sandwich and Antique Glass." She traced the history of glass and also showed some pieces from her own collection. The next Circle meeting will be held on March 16 at the home of Mr. Arthur D. Saul Jr. Mrs. Alexander Way, president of the Big Sister Association, will be the speaker.

The Finance Committee and the Personnel Board are at odds regarding raises for Town Employees, the Personnel Board asking $208 per year, or $4 per week across-the-board increase, and Finance favoring $104 per year or $2 per week.

Russell Declares For School Committee

Walter E. Russell, a teacher in the Arlington public school system for 14 years, has announced his candidacy for School committee.

Russell, an Air Force Navigator in World War II, has six children currently attending Arlington public schools. Many townspeople will remember Russell as the pianist who contributed so much to the openings of past town meetings.

Russell has a broad educational background. He was educated at Harvard, Tufts, and Boston University, receiving a master's degree from the latter. In addition to this, he has taken many additional courses in school administration at Harvard.

Presently, Russell is an assistant principal at Tewksbury Memorial High school.

Prior to his 14 years of service to the Arlington schools, he was a counselor at the Industrial School for Boys in Shirley, Mass. He also taught in Thompsonville, Conn., as well as Deerfield Academy.

A homeowner and taxpayer, Russell now serves as a member of the Cub Scout Pack 343 advisory committee.

Russell's supporters feel that his addition to the Arlington school board would help insure and maintain the fine reputation that the system is currently enjoying.

Russell recently stated, "With about one-third of our tax dollar being spent for the support of our multi-million dollar school support budgets, and with the intellectual futures of approximately 7,500 students concerned, I think that the policy making func-

Six On Committee For Observance

Six Arlington residents have been appointed to a committee to plan commemorative observances for the Centennial of the Civil War.

The Board of Selectmen named the following persons to the committee:

Clara O. Powers, from the local Tent of Daughters of Union Veterans; Ida Bowman, Francis Gould Women's Relief Corps; Rev. Laurence Barber, Arlington Historical Society; Carl A. Johnson, chairman of the Social Studies of the High School; Nicholas T. Sackos, American Legion; James J. Scannell, VFW. Johnson was named temporary chairman.

CHURCH MEETING

Trinity Baptist church met in annual meeting last Wednesday, Jan. 20.

Elected to office for the year 1960 were moderator, Donald C. Prescho; collector, Ralph D. Kinney; treasurer, Harry A. Earle; benevolent treas., Wm. T. Anderson, Sr.; church school supt., Wm. T. Anderson Jr.; ass't. school supt., David A. McKiel; clerk, Mrs. Raymond H. Newcomb; ass't. clerk, Miss Eleanor Prescho; chairman board of Christian Education, Mrs. Howard Whitehouse.

Following the meeting a surprise celebration was given to the Pastor and Mrs. Williamson in recognition of their 25th wedding anniversary.

Members of the school committee would be served to a greater degree if the townspeople of Arlington would vote for qualified people to represent them rather than selecting their candidates for reasons of popularity.

Sales Tax Plan

by Arthur W. Woodman
Governor Foster Furcolo has promised the taxpayers that if his sales tax proposal is approved there will be distributions to cities and towns of $125,000,000 to cut the local tax rates.

This suggestion is a serious bid for support of the tax levy.

The need for a new tax base in the financing of Massachusetts government is accepted by all students of fiscal policies.

But the big question is whether the state government can be relied upon to carry through its promise to aid the communities.

Only a year ago the state itself was in need of cash to operate its services.

Now the administration offers the whole of the sales tax income to the distressed cities and towns and in many instances the cities and towns are distressed because of state imposed conditions.

The Governor's program is being looked at with great care.

There are skeptics who wonder about the full impact of the aid to municipalities. They have historic reason to raise doubts.

Taxpayers 30 years ago were promised glowing results by their lawmakers only to find that the pie in the sky was being cut according to plans.

In 1928 the General Court imposed the first tax on gasoline with a promise to the motorists that the funds would be used entirely for highway construction.

It wasn't long after the tax went into force in 1929 that the nation suffered depression problems.

Governor Joseph B. Ely prevailed on the Legislature to divert the highway cash to balance the state budget—even though there had been a solemn promise to the taxpayers that the money would be used only for highways.

It was not alone Governor Ely who followed this program, for it continued until the late Maurice J. Tobin called a halt to diversion.

Meanwhile, forces interested in the state highway work became alarmed.

The Massachusetts Highway Users Conference, the local distributors of gasoline, the Massachusetts Grange, the persons who had supported the gas tax for highway construction, demanded that the state play square with the taxpayers.

In order to close the door against future diversion of highways money for general purposes, there was a popular vote in 1948 which raised up a constitutional barrier against use of highway income for other than highway purposes.

At that time there was a popular rebellion. It is talked around the State House that it is perfectly all right to promise the cities and towns $125,000,000 a year, to win support for the sales tax, but the members with long memories are asking:

"What can guarantee this sharing will go on forever? After all, the next legislature can tell the cities and towns to sit by and abandon hope because the state needs the money more than do local areas."

What can guarantee this sharing will go on forever? After all, the next legislature can tell the cities and towns to sit by and abandon hope because the state needs the money more than do local areas."

Covering The United Nations

CRITICAL DATES

In conformity with its primary objective—"to save succeeding generations from the scourge of war"—as stated in the preamble of its charter, the United Nations stood poised in early January for developments outside its jurisdiction, but which may vitally affect the cause of peace and disarmament in 1960.

The first such strategic date was January 12, when East-West talks resumed in Geneva about a treaty to ban the testing of nuclear weapons.

Indications are that the talks have reached a critical stage. Non-diplomatic sources in Geneva report that agreement is probably within sight regarding tests taking place on the surface, under water, or at high atmospheric levels. The major remaining obstacle concerns tests underground. Scientists doubt that they could be identified as such, rather than earthquakes, by means of existing instruments.

Meantime the Soviet Union has served notice of rocket tests it proposes to stage in the Pacific after January 15, and France is determined to experiment with an atomic device in the wide spaces of the Sahara, probably in February.

In March a 10-power group or which the Soviet bloc countries hold five places will open disarmament talks. It will report its findings to the United Nations Disarmament Commission, which has suspended meetings until these results are ready. But paramount importance in the field of disarmament continues to focus on the summit meetings, the first of which has been set for May.

UNSCRAMBLE AIRWAVES

A small panel of specially chosen experts has been agreed upon at a Geneva conference of the International Telecommunication Union, one of the agencies of the United Nations, to investigate possible ways of reducing congestion on heavily used radio frequency bands. The panel will begin its efforts in the near future.

MORE PRIVATE CARS

Ownership of private cars rose faster in Yugoslavia—a Communist country—than anywhere else in Europe in 1958, the United Nations Economic Commission for Europe reports in its latest annual bulletin of transport statistics. Compared with 1957, it had a 32 per cent rise in the category of private vehicles, including taxicabs. Its total was 28,394 at the end of the year, having almost tripled since 1954.

Austria was second in this classification, with a rise of 23 per cent between 1957 and 1958, to a total of 286,000.

Western Germany, which for years has been well-equipped with private cars, was in third place with a 20 per cent rise in the twelve months, and a total of 2,936,000 such vehicles at the start of 1959.

GIVE UNRWA $3,500

Officers and enlisted men from many countries, comprising the United Nations Emergency Force on duty in the Gaza Strip, presented a $3,500 purse to the United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine refugees stationed there during the holidays. All elements of the Force contributed to the collection, in their various national currencies, to help the unfortunates among whom they are stationed.

CROP PROMISING

Normal irrigation methods in Tunisia could lead to thick deposits of salt on every acre covered, according to Dr. C. L. Pan, a Chinese expert on rice production who was sent by the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization to attempt the introduction of that crop in the Medjerda Valley, Tunisia. His solution of the problem—leaching out the salt by flooding the acreage to a depth of one foot, and then draining it by deep ditches—proved by experiment that its extension on a large scale could make Tunisia self-sufficient in rice.

At present wheat is the most important crop, occupying 3,000,000 acres, or 70 per cent of the arable land.

Production, however, is so low that the yield is only about 700,000 tons annually.

Rice has double the market value of wheat, and would be more valuable even if the yield were no greater per acre. The experimental field cultivated under the new system, Dr. Pan reported, returned 2,500 pounds of rice as against 600 pounds for wheat. The added income, he pointed out, would more than pay for the expense of the deep ditches that would need to be dug.

R.D. LEND-A-HAND

The January meeting of the R. D. Lend-a-Hand Club was held on Monday at the home of Mrs. Arthur O. Yeames, 24 Kensington rd. Miss Eva Smith was co-hostess.

Luncheon was served by a committee consisting of Mrs. Carl E. Barstow, Mrs. Frederick W. Hill, Mrs. Wyman Smart and Mrs. Ray Mauger.

After the business meeting conducted by the President, Mrs. William H. Moore, bandages were rolled for the Grenfell Mission.

Discuss Disaster Plans

The Arlington Red Cross met with other service groups on Jan. 13 to discuss disaster plans both for Arlington and Greater Boston.

The combined services form a complete unit to serve Arlington or any nearby community in time of need. In this group is transportation, shelter, mass feeding, first aid, and communication. Members of this unit have served Arlington for many years and have an excellent background of experience.

Beginning in December this unit was asked to serve with the Disaster Service of American Red Cross of Greater Boston. The Disaster Service attends all multiple alarm fires and natural disasters in this area.

Present at the meeting were Miss Dorothy Greene, Red Cross chairman, Mrs. Gladys Glidden, transport chairman, Mrs. Betty Bullock, canteen chairman, George Morse, disaster chairman, Kenneth Cameron, first aid chairman.

Allied services represented were Richard Walsh, Mass. rescue service, Don Foster and George Davison, radio communication, and Charles Johnson, chief instructor of first aid.

Also present were Frederick Bodemer, George Chapin, Eric Schreier, Richard Smith, Joseph Juffre, first aid division, Gerald Kennedy, Robert Wallace and William Bongiorno were present from the Massachusetts rescue service.

Philip A. Sweeney, retired Civil Defense Director, attended in advisory capacity.

The National Red Cross was represented by assistant manager Nelson Vogelsohn and field director Esther Burnham.

BOOK REVIEW CLUB

The Book Review club met at the home of Mrs. LeRoy Johnston on Jan. 13.

Mrs. Hugh Farrington reviewed "Edison", a biography by Mathew Josephson.

Refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be Feb. 10.

LOCAL MAN HONORED

Cadet Paul E. Parr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Parr of 184 Appleton st., has been promoted to the position of Cadet Officer by the Superintendent of the United States Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, New York.

On recommendation of the Command Board of the Academy, he was appointed to the rank of Cadet Ensign with 75 men under his command.

At present Cadet Parr is completing his final year in the Cadet Corps.

Teachers Hear Talk On Life In Japan

Arlington sixth grade teachers heard a talk by Mrs. Martin Nelson, wife of Commander Martin Nelson, Navy yard supply officer, who spoke on Life in Japan at the in-service meeting on Wednesday afternoon.

Commander and Mrs. Nelson have just returned from four years' tour of duty in Japan. During their stay in Japan they travelled widely and had unusual opportunities to observe Japanese life and customs.

In her talk Mrs. Nelson spoke of geography and its influence on the Japanese people, their customs and living habits. She showed films and some of her articles brought home from Japan.

"The influence of the Shinto religion and the respect of the Japanese family for authority are two outstanding characteristics of the Japanese family," she said.

Commander and Mrs. Nelson live in Arlington on Wildwood ave. They have two young sons attending the Parmenter School.

Kenneth A. Cameron, principal of the Cutter and Parmenter schools is chairman of the sixth grade group.

WRONG FORMS

In a special announcement from the office of Frank J. Cavanagh, District Director of Internal Revenue, the attention of all taxpayers is called to the importance of attaching the proper Withholding Tax Statement, Form W-2 (Federal Taxes Withheld from Wages), to the Federal Income Tax return before filing it with the District Director's Office.

"We have received hundreds of Federal Income Tax returns," stated the Director, "to which the taxpayers have erroneously attached a Form M-2, which is the Massachusetts State Income Tax Withholding Statement, and have failed to attach the necessary Form W-2, which is the Federal Tax Withheld from Wages Form."

"Under no circumstances can these Federal Income Tax returns be processed," he said.

NEXT induction call, when two men will leave, is Feb. 11.

HERE'S THE SECRET OF THE PEDIC'S
BACK BRACING SUPPORT

THIS NOT THIS

This Genuine Slumberland PEDIC has not one but TWO Resilient Miracle pads built right into it. They refuse to sag and actually help the coils to react instantly to your body's weight.

Ordinary mattresses often bog down under body weight and leave your back in a "hammocky" sag as weak coils sink down.

Jane Day — Slumberland's TV Weather Gal Says:

Never Before Perhaps Never Again An Offer Like This!

Would you believe it? A Genuine PEDIC Mattress priced so low! You've seen other brands for much, much more, but now Slumberland brings you one of the finest of all at an amazingly low price. Slumberland's exclusive BACKBRACING SUPPORT, firm for the sleep of health you need, comes from crush-proof, DOUBLE-CUSHIONED Rubberized Miracle Pads that just can't sag... plus HEAVY DUTY electronically-tempered steel coils.

Other features include: Buttonless Top; Breathing Air Vents; Sag-Proof Border; Turning Handles and Handsome Woven-Striped Ticking that's practically wear-proof. Doctors say that too soft or too hard a mattress can result in backache problems... The happy medium is the "just right firmness" of the Pedic — the year's best mattress buy... so get out of that "hammock like" mattress and get the miracle of sweet refreshing rest that only a Genuine Slumberland Pedic can give.

Famous Belmont Pigeon Dies

Belmont Pet Shop, located in Cushing Square, Belmont, has notified the paper this week of the passing of perhaps its most famous pet, a pigeon. The pigeon died last Monday at the age of 8, believed to be one of the longest life spans for a bird.

Mr. Pigeon was virtually "king" of the pet shop since it was brought in seven years ago for a broken wing. When the wing healed, the bird refused to leave and instead took up permanent residence in Carmine Colloitti's pet shop.

The bird had numerous friends among the children who visited the shop, particularly some blind children at a local school who could pet and play with the pigeon. The pigeon followed "Cal" throughout the shop, either on his shoulder or just plain walking.

The pigeon's legs were broken two or three times as a result of fights with dogs, but still he reigned as king of the roost.

Mr. Colloitti will have the pigeon stuffed and mounted so that it will have a permanent home among the many friends it loved so dearly.

Free Cash Shows Drop

According to the Balance Sheet, now completed for 1959, the Town of Arlington has a total of $833,164.42 in free cash. This figure is down some $41,502.42 from the 1958 figures.

Total amount of cash in the Town's excess and deficiency fund as of Dec. 31, 1958 was $986,503.03 compared to $939,055.52 on the same date in 1958.

One important source of "free cash" comes from unexpended public balances in street, sidewalk and sewer extension programs.

Meanwhile uncollected taxes in 1958 totaled $111,836.19 compared to $105,891.10 at the end of 1957.

Collections of motor excise taxes have been slower this year, Monahan said, due to delay of information from the State.
